Brief  Course Description 课程简述（中英文）

景观的本质是什么？人类文化怎样塑造景观？在遗产保护运动中文化景观处于什么样的地位？为什么文化景观遗产保护是联合国教科文组织的旗舰项目？文化景观保护的障碍是什么？当代经济体系和一技之长的生活方式使人类产生分离又如何威胁到文化景观的可持续？解决景观问题是否也涉及到政治和社会的公平？

本课程为解决这些问题，将课程分为三个部分。第一部分覆盖了文化景观的理论知识，考察当今文化景观最重要的实践运动——世界遗产；第二部分运用文化景观的视野，从物质和非物质的角度审视中国文化景观，梳理中国与自然相关的哲学、文学、绘画和园林。最后，课程围绕国际文化景观保护前沿主题——环境公正，景观创造中的民众角色，人地关系、哲学与环境行动等主要议题展开讨论和探索。

What’s the nature of landscape? How are landscapes shaped by culture and human beings? Where to locate landscape conservation in the heritage conservation movement? Why World Heritage Cultural Landscapes is a flagship programme of UNESCO? What are the difficulties of cultural landscape conservation? Has our contemporary economic system and technological lifestyle alienated us from the local places where we live and threatens cultural landscapes’ sustainability? Does resolving our landscape problems also require addressing political and social inequities?

To explore these questions, the first one third of our course will cover theories of cultural landscapes and examine the most influential movements in recent thought of cultural landscape: World Heritage Cultural Landscapes. In the middle, we will apply cultural landscape methods to explore the nature of Chinese landscapes, which will include tangible and intangible interactions between Chinese people and nature. The highest achievement of Chinese landscape culture-philosophy, literature, painting and garden will be explored. Finally, we will focus on key themes of current debate in the field, including environmental justice, the proper role of the local in creating landscapes, our relationship with land, radical environmental activism, and the relation between philosophy and activism.
